HARRISON IS MARRIED.

A Quiet Wedding at New York.

Only Relatives and Immediate Friends Present.

Off for Their Home in Indianapolis—Biography of the Fair Bride.

NEW YORK, April 6.—The marriage of Mrs. Mary Lord Dimmick to General Benjamin Harrison was solemnized at St. Thomas church this afternoon. Dr. Westley Brown, the rector, officiated.

The marriage took place in the presence of twenty relatives and select friends of bride and groom. General Tracey acted as best man.

After the matrimonial service the bride's party was driven to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Pinchon, where light refreshments were served and the party donned traveling attire for their trip to Indianapolis.

Mrs. Harrison, who is a small, but very graceful woman, rather dark complexion and of very bright and attractive appearance, is related to General Harrison through his late wife, who was her aunt.

She was born at Honesdale, Pa. Her father was Russell S. Lord. He was general manager of the Delaware and Hudson company. Mrs. Dimmick's younger life was spent at Honesdale, where she became acquainted with her first husband, Walter E. Dimmick, member of a wealthy Pennsylvania family, but who died within a few months after their marriage. After the death of her first husband she lived with her mother and her father and Mrs. Lord's father, Dr. Scott, until her mother's death in 1890, when she came to New York city to live with her sister, Mrs. John F. Parker. She spent some considerable time at the White House during General Harrison's administration and was a great favorite with her aunt, the late Mrs. Harrison.

General Benjamin Harrison was born in North Bend, Ohio, in August, 1833, and is in his 63d year.

ON A WHEEL.

How a Modern Prisoner Tried to Escape.

At Roswell, N. M., last Sunday evening about 5 o'clock as one of the assistant jailors went to hand in some water to the prisoners in the Chaves county jail, in which there are two prisoners awaiting their hanging day and four others for minor offenses, he was snatched in through the open door by a prisoner named Atterman. Atterman then jumped out and locked the jail door, locking the jailor and five prisoners inside, mounted a bicycle that was standing near the jail door, and started out of town at full speed. He had got only a short distance when he broke his wheel and met a man with a new Columbia whom he forced to dismount and give up his bicycle. He mounted this bicycle and started out again. In less than ten minutes nearly 100 citizens were chasing off down the road after the fleeing jail breaker all armed with revolvers, Winchester, double barreled shotguns, buffalo guns and dirk knives. About fifty shots were fired, one of which took effect, hitting the runaway in the left arm. At that he was forced to stop and was soon caught and hauled back to the jail and locked up. His wound is not fatal, but will probably result in his losing an arm.

HE CUT HIS THROAT.

A Troublesome Patient Delivered at the Insane Asylum.

Out at the insane asylum is a peculiar case, peculiar even to the case hardened attendants of a mad house. The "case" is a man named John Blair, sent from Graham county last week suffering from acute dementia. He must be fed through a tube, the ordinary mean of taking aliment being rendered inoperative through the fact that the man's throat is cut. He has a frightful gash in the throat, the gullet being cut through, as well as the trachea and many of the small veins of the neck.

Blair had been before an inmate of the asylum and had been discharged in March, 1895, as cured and sent back to Pima, where he has a wife and family and a number of other relatives. He has lately manifested a homicidal mania, shown in a craving for blood and, a week ago, securing a dull carving knife, accomplished the job that has furnished such a complication with his mental disorder. The county authorities thereupon promptly hurried him to Phoenix. Dr. Hamblin is doing all that can be done for the unfortunate man, but states that his chances of recovery are slight.

ROSSON HAS RESIGNED

Tired of the Office of Mayor.

The City Council and Block Forty-One.

Refusal Is Made to Rescind the Resolution Creating that Reserve.

The city council met last night in regular monthly session. The main matter before the meeting was the following communication: "To the Common Council of the City of Phoenix, A. T.:

"Gentlemen—I hereby respectfully tender my resignation as mayor of the city of Phoenix, A. T., and trusting you may deem it advisable to hold the election for filling vacancies in the city council on the day designated for voting city bonds, to-wit, June 2d, 1896, I remain respectfully,

"R. L. ROSSON."

As it has been long understood that the mayor was anxious to be relieved of the cares of office, the resignation excited little comment. It was accepted and Councilman R. Allyn Lewis was elected to be mayor pro tem pending further action by the council.

The regular bills were audited and a number of routine matters disposed of. The Franciscan fathers asked for the closing of the alley on the Catholic church block. A resolution was accordingly agreed upon by a majority of the council granting the permission contingent upon the erection of a church within three years to cost not less than $50,000, but the matter was put over till next Thursday. Councilman Dennis alone seemed to oppose the resolution.

A petition was received from E. F. Kellner, Rev. Cal Ogburn, John Y. T. Smith and others asking that the city vacate resolution No. 27, establishing block 41 as a safe resort for prostitution. The petition related the evils of the traffic and the injury done by its legal status within definite bounds and made reference to several city ordinances in which the traffic is referred to as a crime. These ordinances are not enforced. Several citizens spoke in support of the resolution. Then Councilman Moss moved to lay the petition on the table. Acting Mayor Lewis put the question. Councilman Moss alone voted aye; none other voted no and the petition was tabled. The petitioning citizens announce their intention to go to the district court for redress.

In regard to his resignation, Mayor Rosson stated to a Republican reporter that he is tired of the office, of its duties and associations, and believes the present time propitious for a transfer of its responsibilities.

THE GRAND ARMY.

The Territorial Encampment Meets in Phoenix This Morning.

The territorial encampment Grand Army of the Republic meets this morning at the hall of the local post in the Monihon building. Present are representatives from nearly every portion of the territory. Among them are the following named:

Department Commander, General W. F. R. Schneider of Prescott, stopping at the Commercial hotel; Gov. R. C. Powers and wife of Prescott, with Dr. J. M. Evans; W. H. Ferguson; S. C. Rees, M. Hermann, Carlo Capelli, stopping with Mr. McKittick; Jas. A. Guild, J. F. Foster, John Crellin, Arthur J. Judd, the assistant adjutant-general, Mrs. C. P. Dake and Mrs. E. B. Maden, all of Prescott; Jno. L. Burrows and D. P. Eielan of Williams, at the Lemon hotel; Geo. Hoxworth and wife, with Hon. J. A. Marshall; W. H. Pierce, J. R. Lockett, Miss Lola Woods, Miss Altha Prince, Jas. Haley, Harry Kellan, J. E. Cress, Ira Hoxworth, Birr Doyle, all at the Mills house. Others from the south will arrive this morning. Considerable interest is manifested as to who shall be the next department commander. The election will come off today. All will attend the army song concert at the opera house tonight.

During the day the ladies of the Relief Corps will meet at the Mills house to discuss matters of interest, prior to the regular meeting, which will be held tomorrow.

During the encampment Mrs. H. B. Lighthizer, president of the Woman's Relief Corps, will receive at the parlors of the Mills house, West Washington street, the members of the corps and the ladies of the visiting delegations.

CLARK CHURCHILL'S FUNERAL.

The City Mourned for the Leader Who Is Gone.

Yesterday morning were consigned to the grave all that remained mortal of Clark Churchill.

The body, clothed in Knight Templar uniform, lay at the late residence of deceased on East Van Buren street till the morning, the casket heaped high with beautiful floral offerings, and many were the friends who came to offer a last wreath for memory's sake and to extend condolence to the grief-stricken widow.

At 9 commenced the solemn Gregorian chant of the requiem high mass at St. Mary's church. In the aisle, below the sanctuary, rested the coffin, the bier marked by candles at head and foot. The church was crowded far beyond its seating capacity and many of the old-time friends of deceased and family were unable to obtain admittance. The mass was conducted by Fr. Novato.

From the church door the ceremonies were conducted by the local encampment of Knights Templar, with which order deceased had been permitted to continue when he joined the communion of the Catholic church. The pall bearers, however, were six of the personal associates and friends of deceased, namely Thomas Fitch, Governor B. J. Franklin, J. T. Simms, B. A. Fickas, R. Allyn Lewis and Samuel Elder.

Leading the cortege came the Knights Templar. The hearse was escorted by a detachment of the militia commanded by Lieutenant Coggins, Clark Churchill for four years having held the position of adjutant-general of the Arizona National Guard. At the grave, which had been dug beside that of the first wife of deceased in the Masonic cemetery, the burial service of the Knights was read, the body consigned to earth, three salvos were fired and the bugler sounded "taps."

Expressions of grief have been general throughout the city since the death. District court suspended session and many of the public offices were closed yesterday as a sign of respect. The character of Clark Churchill was the subject of discussion upon the streets and the verdict was general and unanimous: He was a good man as well as able; just to his enemies, generous to his friends, a man whom Phoenix can ill afford to lose.

THE TEMPE ELECTION.

The "Meeting Ticket" Is Elected by a Safe Majority Throughout.

Tempe held her annual city election yesterday. There were two tickets in the field, one generally called the "Meeting Ticket," as it had been put forward by a number of citizens in caucus assembled, and the other was known as the "Administration Ticket," having for its supporters a number of citizens identified with the present government of the city.

There was little excitement and but a slack vote was polled. Only four of the Mexican voters of several hundred found their way to the polls. There in the booths were to be secured only the tickets named in opposition to the meeting candidates, as the secretary of the meeting had failed to comply with formalities required in the Australian ballot law.

Yet the meeting ticket was successful by a safe majority, the vote standing as follows:

For city councilmen, Citizens' ticket, Woolf Sachs, 42; A. G. Austin, 38; John L. Richards, 45; E. A. Murphy, 43; Chas. N. Taylor (on both tickets) 61; opposition ticket, Ernest Schmidt, 21; C. J. Ulmer, 27; J. B. McNeill, 21; F. A. Hough, 23.

For city marshal and superintendent of streets, Geo. L. Compton, 40; J. M. Culver, 23.

For town clerk, Fletcher M. Schureman, 44; R. G. Spafford, 15.

No political animus was mixed into the election, nearly all the candidates on both tickets being Republican in bias.

EASTER DAY.

Celebration of the Holy Festival by the Churches of Phoenix.

Never before in Phoenix was Easter celebrated as it was last Sunday. Nearly all the churches of the city held special services with reference to the ever new theme of the Saviour's resurrection from the dead and the sacred edifices were thronged with worshippers.

At the Episcopal church, made beautiful by new and tasty pews, the floral decorations were lovely, the chancel being massed with calla lilies and the very pews filled with nature's bounty. The musical service was notable for excellence.

At the Presbyterian church the main event of the day was the Easter service of the Knights Templar, held in the evening. The Knights, led by Commander Charles W. Johnstone, were present in the full strength of the commandery. Prelate Gillette read the ritual of the order, the address falling upon Sir Knight Hülzinger of Tucson, who acquitted himself with all credit.

The Methodist Episcopal for the first time occupied its new church, the morning and evening services being held in the capacious basement, which had been arranged most suitably for the purpose and which had been fairly lined with flowers and evergreens.

The Christian and Baptist congregations worshipped together at the church of the latter denomination, the discourse at the evening service being by Rev. Cal Ogburn, the Christian church pastor.

Mountains of shoes and Oxford ties at Alkire's. All bought by experienced buyers who were on the spot. No middle man's profits here and your feet are sure of a fit.

After devotional exercises reports of committees were read as follows: Benevolent Effort, State of Religion, Sunday schools, Home Missions, publications, Foreign Missions, Temperance, Young People's Work, Obituaries.

These reports, after discussion by the body, were adopted.

BERRY, lately the hangman in England, was summoned recently for not paying a very small debt. He explained that his lectures on hanging had not proved attractive, that he had unsuccessfully tried to get work as a commercial traveler, and that none of his six children could find employment on account of his former calling.
